The Prez Sez

By Gary Hawley, President

Greetings to all Gold Prospectors of the Rockies members!

The weather has produced some interesting afternoons lately. Thunderstorms, wind, hail, tornados, cool temps, and warm temps. Ahhh, Colorado! Something for everyone and sometimes, all in the same day. Keep aware of conditions as you venture out to your favorite prospecting area and be prepared.

Here is a reminder for everyone who wants a place to go prospecting. We can continue to prospect in Clear Creek Canyon, from Tunnel #1 to the wye that connects Hwy. 6 to Hwy. 119. This is Jefferson County Open Space land and there are a few rules to be aware of: 1) Park in designated parking areas and obey any posted time limits. 2) Dig/dredge within the confines of the stream. 3) Do not remove anything other than fish and the gold you find. You will be subject to a fine if you attempt to take rocks or boulders home with you). 4) Fill your holes. 5) Remove trash. 6) Don't refuel your gasoline engine while it is in the stream.

The club has a "Small-Scale Miners Code of Ethics." Follow that code and the other rules I mentioned and you should have no problems. If you are contacted by any enforcement official about your mining activities, be polite, follow their directives, and contact me or another Board Member as soon as possible so information can be shared with other members.

This area of Clear Creek is rich in mining history and is a known gold producer. You will have access to several miles of stream bed to prospect and that should keep everyone busy for this summer.

Georgetown Loop RR & Lebanon Mine

An Unbreakable Impasse

The Colorado Historical Society, after reaching an impasse with the Georgetown Loop Railroad, Inc., the family-controlled business that owns the unique trains, equipment, tools, and most importantly, the expertise to run it all, will cease operations at the Georgetown Loop Historic Mining & Railroad Park at the end of their 30th season on October 3, 2004.

The same family owns and operates year-round the Royal Gorge Route Railroad in Canon City. The family expects to add a third rail to the Royal Gorge Route, creating a narrow-gauge track that will accommodate the locomotives and rolling stock currently used in Georgetown.

The Georgetown Loop Railroad

The history of the Georgetown Railroad dates back to 1877 when silver was discovered in the mountains west of Denver. In an effort to reach the mines, early railroads began construction, first to Golden, extending up Clear Creek Canyon with the intention of extending into the rich mining town of Leadville. The line never reached its goal and instead the railroad provided freight and passenger service to the mining camps between Denver and Silver Plume.

The train travels between the towns of Georgetown and Silver Plume, both rich in mining and railroad history, through the same spectacular Colorado mountain scenery that visitors of yesteryear enjoyed.

Exhibit Foundation, a nonprofit corporation, has organized funding for, and coordinated a large public education exhibit at the Festival of Mountain and Plain (commonly called "The Taste of Colorado") festival in downtown Denver over Labor Day weekend. Drawing more than 400,000 each year, the exhibit has gold panning for kids and more than 20 hands-on displays and multi-media activities. There are short presentations made, such as "Rocks On Your Face," and videos are shown.

Gold panning exhibits are set up outside of the exhibit's 12- x 12-m (40- x 40-ft) tent. Panners get to keep the gold flakes salted into the stream gravel. The Foundation operates on the principle that "you must entertain to educate the public" (a good motto for our own GPR Demonstrations Committee to adopt and advocate). Inside the tent, more than 200 volunteers from several mining-related companies and organizations explain mining's history in Colorado and its importance to society.

The Foundation is supported by Betty Gibbs' Computer Science Learning Center (with interactive, multimedia computer displays of exploration, and mining software) and the Denver Mining Club, among many other organizations.

The traveling display features video and computer demonstrations, ore and coal samples, plus graphics of reclamation successes. Free education material is handed out to teachers, home-schoolers, librarians, Scout leaders, and civic groups. The teacher kits include videos, CDs, posters, coloring books, rock samples, and more. More than 2,000 kits have been distributed each year.

The Foundation has had displays at many venues, including the Denver Zoo, the Denver Botanic Garden's Chatfield Nature Preserve, the Colorado Earth Day Project, and at fairs, expos, and the like.

The cost for exhibit construction, tent rental, insurance, security (24-hour armed guards), electricity, etc. runs a staggering $30,000 to $50,000. The money, materials, and volunteers are provided by local, state and national mining organizations as well as several mining companies. In all, more than 15 organizations work together to bring about the exhibit and nearly 15 companies donate funding for their annual project.

If you would like to help with funds, displays, large mineral samples, and/or volunteer time (for example, for a 4 hour shift on one display day, such as to help with the gold panning), Guy Johnson would appreciate hearing from you.

Phone (303) 969-0365 or fax (303) 716-0503 or e-mail GPJ222@aol.com.

Shawn & Pinie Conell have initiated the "GPR Cache" with the first clue given at the June meeting. You must attend the meetings to get the clues. There will be a prize valued at $150 awarded to the club member who finds the target!

The panning demos are going great and everyone involved is having a good time. Check with Jeff to see when the next demo is and volunteer some time to help.

Allen Mershon again provided an exceptionally interesting speaker, Al Mosch, owner of the Phoenix Gold Mine, at the June meeting. I am excited to see who will be there in July.

The club needs a volunteer to assist Sue Clover with planning and promoting our annual outing. She needs help with selecting a date, location and some activities for the outing. Sue cannot do it alone and it is always more fun and productive when several people work together.

There are so many members doing such great jobs of helping and promoting the GPR that I fear missing someone who has earned recognition for their efforts. Your efforts do not go unnoticed and I thank you!

I will be leading a Black Hawk/Central City tour Sunday, August 22. This will be a full day of fun in a historic mining district. More information will be available at the July and August meetings and a map will be published in the August edition of the Gold Nugget. Be sure to check the GPR events calendar for other activities and get involved with the ones of your choice.

By the way, Kathy Hawley got her newsletter article to Dick Oakes, editor of The Gold Nugget, before I had a chance see what she selected for the July nugget drawing. She has been selecting those nuggets that are over 2.0 grams and I can't stop her (not that anyone has asked me to). When you come to the July meeting, someone please check the nugget box and tell me what to expect...especially what number has the largest nugget.

The latest shirt order has just arrived and will be available at the July meeting. There are three new items available that I am sure you will be proud to wear.

Attend the meetings, get involved, and help keep the GPR the Number One prospecting club along the Front Range.

time: May the gold in your pan be worth the effort you put into finding it.

One-Pound Nugget!

By Don Ditzler

While detecting on a schoolyard, I got a signal and eventually dug down some ten inches through wood chips, a gravel layer, and into six inches of clay. There I discovered a nugget weighing more than a pound--a lead nugget valued at probably no less than five cents. While I was pleased with the find it seemed to lack the thrill of unearthing a one pound slug of gold. Really, it's awfully hard to get excited over lead nuggets, but I will lay it away with other unusual finds. Perhaps if I cover it with gilt paint it may be more attractive.

Although just two miles separate the two towns, the elevation difference is over 600 feet. The rail line twists and turns over 4 1/2 miles of track to gain the elevation and travels over the Devil's Gate Viaduct, 300 feet long and almost 100 feet high, that forms a spiral where the track actually crosses over itself, as well as the reconstructed Devil's Gate High Bridge, completed 20 years ago, which stands 95 feet above Clear Creek. Passengers at the turn of the century hailed the railroad as the "far famed Loop," a marvel of engineering skill and the world's most complex railroad loop.

The round-trip train ride takes approximately one hour and 10 minutes.

The Lebanon Silver Mine

An optional silver mine tour with an additional fee operates through Labor Day.

Currently, the Lebanon Silver Mine can be accessed only by the Georgetown Loop Railroad. With the closing of the railroad at the end of 2003, thoughts are to create a hiking trail to the mine. Without train access, however, the Lebanon will be effectively cut off from an overwhelming percentage of the people who would have visited the historic mine site.

Colorado Historical Society guides lead tours through the mine, show the mine manager's office, the change room (also called a "dry"), and the blacksmith shop and tool shed. Hard hats are provided but comfortable walking shoes are recommended and, because the mine is a constant 44 degrees

General Meeting

by Paul Nagy, General Meeting Recorder

President Gary Hawley called the meeting to order and the members were led in the Pledge of Allegiance.

Gary Hawley asked for volunteers to help Sue Clover with the annual outing, usually held in August.

Regarding the club having its own claims, Gary mentioned the high cost and hassle of this, along with the need to deal with government agencies and retain expensive legal counsel. He reminded us that the club does have more or less reliable prospecting areas such as 70th Avenue at Washington Street, the Jefferson County Open Space in Clear Creek Canyon, and Dennis O'Neill's Twin Lakes property where you pay to dredge. The Phoenix Mine offers panning only for a small charge. Members may enjoy themselves at these locations where the club will not have legal liability. Gary mentioned that there are claims for sale in the club newsletter should any member care to obtain any and perhaps make them available for club use. Finally, there will be instructions for locating and filing claims in Colorado at the Argo Mine rally. Larry Weilnau mentioned that legal liability would remain with the club even if unauthorized nonmembers cause damage on club's claims. Shirley Weilnau noted reclamation and re-seeding costs are high. It was moved, seconded, and passed by majority vote of the members present that no claims be obtained at this time.

Allen Mershon thanked all who helped with Arvada Gold Rush Festival and gave each a jar of concentrates in appreciation. Included were J. and D. Mosteller, G. and K. Hawley, D. Oakes, L. and S. Weilnau, L. Lamgo, C. Douthard, E. Finney, H. Innerfeld, and P. Nagy. V.P. Jeff Mosteller thanked all who helped at the Arvada Days panning demo. The club was on TV in the early a.m. He asked for volunteers to sign up for the panning demos at the Bemis Library on 19 June and the Argo Mine on 26 and 27 June. Gary Hawley mentioned that panning demos are a public service to promote the club and to educate the public. He also thanked all those who helped at Arvada Days

The club will limit the number of panning demos because of the work load to key members. For example, Jeff Mosteller worked 17 hours on Saturday. A demo at Leadville is a possibility.

There will be an impromptu club outing on Sunday, 20 June. Those interested meet at 9:00 a.m. at the gas station on Highway 119 to prospect in Clear Creek. Bring your prospecting gear. Gary added that at the outing there will be free instruction on high banking, sluicing, panning, etc. Be reminded that the maximum dredge intake permissible is three inches in diameter.

Gary Hawley said that an additional order has been placed for shirts and other club logo items because of high demand. Items ordered should be available at next month's meeting.

Dick Oakes said that tickets for a prize drawing might be awarded in the future to members who wear their yellow plastic club badges (the Board still has to vote on this). For those who have lost their badges, replacement badges are available for $10.00.

Shawn Conell gave the first clue for the GPR Colorado Cache Hunt puzzle.

Gary Hawley described some of the prizes for the night's drawing, including 2.4 and 2.2 gram nuggets, and invited members to buy tickets. He also suggested that tickets be bought before the meeting to avoid the last minute rush.

The Q&A

By Rick Miska, Q&A Coordinator

The Question for June was:

Q: What famous Colorado meat lover was paroled on January 7, 1901, by Governor Charles Thomas?

A: Alferd (Alfred) Packer.

Source: The Coloradans by Robert G. Atheam, Softcover, 430 pp., University of New Mexico Press, 1976, Page 205.

The Question for July is:

Q: If you were a late 1800's miner in Pandora Colorado, and you were on your way to the Smuggler Union mines, what road were you likely to travel on?

Google search: road pandora smuggler colorado

Members who submit a correct answer to this question at the next meeting will receive a ticket for the nugget drawing.

Thanks to Randy Solomon for donating a gold nugget for the June door prize drawing.

Thanks also to Donna Mosteller for helping me with the ticket sales on such short notice. I appreciate all the members' continued support of ticket sales. It is your support that allows us to bring you the beautiful gold nuggets for the drawings. Speaking of gold nuggets, we will again have Anvil Creek, Nome, Alaska, gold at the July meeting. The largest nugget will be 2.3 GRAMS (don't tell Gary) and five nuggets will be over 1 GRAM EACH!

So like I always say, come prepared to buy some extra tickets and Good Luck!

Food for Thought

By Donna Mosteller, Refreshments Coordinator

I'm wore out from the Argo Show, which was great by the way, so this will be short and sweet. Thanks go to Shirley Weilnau for the trail mix and grapes, Hank Innerfeld for the banana bread, Ed Finney for the Mountain Man trail mix, and LeRoy Lamgo for the early 4th of July cake and Twinkies.

No old recipe for this month. See you at the meeting.

Ten years after gold was first discovered in California in 1848, the precious yellow metal was found in the territory of Colorado (or Jefferson Territory as it was then known). Just as in California and the other mining regions, shipment eastward to the Philadelphia Mint was long and hazardous. Once again, a solution was found in the private coining of gold near to the source.

people to show up. I only have two signed up on the roster, so please try to come up and lend a hand. I hear they put on a great fireworks show.

Secondly, we received word from an excited woman at the Astor House in Golden who didn't know the name of the contact for this year's panning demonstrations. It looks like we'll be attending the Buffalo Bill Days festival on July 24 and 25. I'll have the time tables worked out by meeting time.

Lastly, we had a spur-of-the-moment outing in North Clear Creek. Lots of people showed up and got to run my dredge. I think everybody carried away some gold that day and Mile Marker 3 on Hwy. 119 looks like a spot we will have to revisit when the water goes down a bit. Allen Mershon got to see the ugly side of a pry bar that day, which reminds me to say, "Be careful out there!" It's easy to get hurt when you are moving big rocks in the river channel.

See every body at the meeting.

Today's subliminal message is: " "
Tubby or not tubby, fat is the question!
(Clichés are a dime a dozen.)

Allen Mershon introduced speakers Al Mosch and Rocky Quinn of the Phoenix Gold Mine. Al introduced Rocky as a 17 year-old honor student who was raised in a mountain cabin that had no indoor plumbing. Al is the owner of the Phoenix, which is an operating gold mine that also is open for tours. Al's son David, who was once diagnosed as developmentally disabled, became a graduate of, and is now a faculty member of, the Colorado School of Mines (CSM). He teaches at the Edgar Experimental Mine near the CSM campus. Al's wife was among the first female graduates of CSM. His daughter Cyndi is a professional caver and has been employed, for example, by the federal government at the Carlsbad Caverns National Park where she has spent up to three weeks at a time underground on mapping projects. Al's father, a German émigré, was a miner, mine owner, and finally Gilpin County Sheriff, which position he held for fifty years and which is believed to be a state lawenforcement record. Al otherwise entertained the club with mining lore and anecdotes of his own life as a small mine owner. Rocky Quinn mentioned that tours of the Phoenix Mine are $10., seniors (+65) $8, and gold panning (only) is $5.

After the prize drawings, Gary adjourned the meeting.
